For the years 1891–1954, birth counts by age are originally available only for all births, including still-births, and not for live births. However, for the years 1911-1954, counts of live births by month are available. Based on these data, estimates of live births for the years 1891-1954 were generated. For the description of the method, see the HFD background and documentation file of Sweden.
