

1

Data on birth counts by age of the mother were adjusted to include late registration births, while data on monthly birth counts do not include late registered births. Therefore, the respective sums of births differ.

For unknown reasons, there are small differences between the sum of monthly births and the given total in 1948, 1958, and 1974.

For more information, read the Background and documentation file.